FOREWORD

Letter from Chief Michael Yates

The Jonesboro Police department strives to keep the citizens and elected officials informed, in a meaningful way, about how our operations are going. We report monthly and annually in some depth (with special reports and reviews) and maintain an online solution to review real-time crime activity for our citizens. Given these efforts it is not always easy for the average citizen to understand the traditional FBI UCR reports or the newer FBI NIBRS system thus so we try to adapt our reporting to a format that actually makes sense. This annual report is the product of these efforts and represents our best efforts to untangle a sometimes less than easy to read bundle of data. There may be some errors, there may be some differences in interpretations of data but I think citizens will find this report valuable and a useful perspective of their police department's operations.

In 2012 we saw a continuation of crime trends that reflect well on our city given the growth we have had and are currently experiencing. Essentially, traditional crime has once again remained stable or has gone down (with few exceptions) when compared to previous years. Remarkably, this trend has continued during periods of significant growth, a downward turn in the economy, demographic shifts, increased unemployment, and other social challenges that typically adversely affect crime rates.

In some areas where crime has increased, statistically, the increase is due, at least in part, to changes in our operations. This trend is reflected in operations we refer to as "proactive policing" where the officer's self-initiated efforts lead to the discovery of a crime unreported by a citizen resulting in an arrest. An example of these types of cases where an increase in a particular crime reflects something "good" would be weapons offenses, gambling, prostitution, liquor violations, or drug offenses. In nearly all of these cases the crime is discovered and reported by the officer.

Since the Jonesboro Police Department achieved National Accreditation through CALEA (Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies), we have been required to change the way we report certain things. This has caused a considerable jump in certain areas statistically. The most prominent example is in the case of arrest warrant service. CALEA requires a report on every physical arrest but, in the case of warrant arrests, this was not our practice in previous years. Once we started this process it reflected a big jump in arrest rates, not that we were arresting many, many more people, just that we began reporting such. Such operational changes have great impact statistically, but not so much operationally, and it is important that our citizens understand these anomalies.

Generally speaking, we have fared well in the past year as an organization. Our turn-over rate remains stable as do serious complaints and disciplinary actions. Many of our officers have achieved advanced training and have completed several stages of their formal college education. We have advanced technologically in leaps and bounds and have begun a new phase of periodic scientific review of our operations which will help us provide more efficient and effective service in the future. In 2012, we started a hot spot reduction “Cops on the Dots” program which has used real-time crime data to help us put our resources where the crime is. This has resulted in some substantial reductions of criminal activity in key areas.

Please take the time to read this material and get to know your Police Department a little better.

Sincerely,

Michael F. Yates
 Chief of Police
 Jonesboro, Arkansas

MISSION STATEMENT

The City of Jonesboro Police Department shall strive to ensure that all of our citizens are served in a professional, ethical and equitable manner that respects individuals, protects our democratic ideals and system of government, pursues greater accountability of police, greater public share in decision making, and greater concern for civil rights and liberties.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Jonesboro Police Department (JPD) continued to strive for excellence in community service once again in Year 2012. This report is a summation of the department's progress and changes, along with the city's crime data. It also includes eight year trend analysis of calls for service, population, arrests, and criminal activity. Crime Activity is broken down into Part I and II crime categories, as defined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and then by types of crimes falling under each category.

The department has been successful in its efforts to control criminal activity over the last eight years. Comparing the crime rate per 1000 population in 2012 to 2011, the crime has decreased by 11%. Since 2005, the crime rate per 1000 population has increased by 10%, while the population of Jonesboro has increased by 17% during the same period of time. This effort was achieved despite the 38% increase in the calls for service per 1000 population since 2005. Although the calls for service have increased by 2% from 2011, the rate per 1000 population does not show a significant change. Since 2011, arrests by offense have dropped by 6 % in 2012 and so did the arrests by person (-6%). Since 2005, however, arrests by person have increased by 94%, while arrests by offense have increased by 127%. This large increase in arrests from 2005 is due in part to policy changes in the way physical arrests are reported when arrests are made based on an arrest warrant (which were unreported in previous years) and policy changes requiring physical arrests for certain traffic offenses (that were also unreported in earlier years).

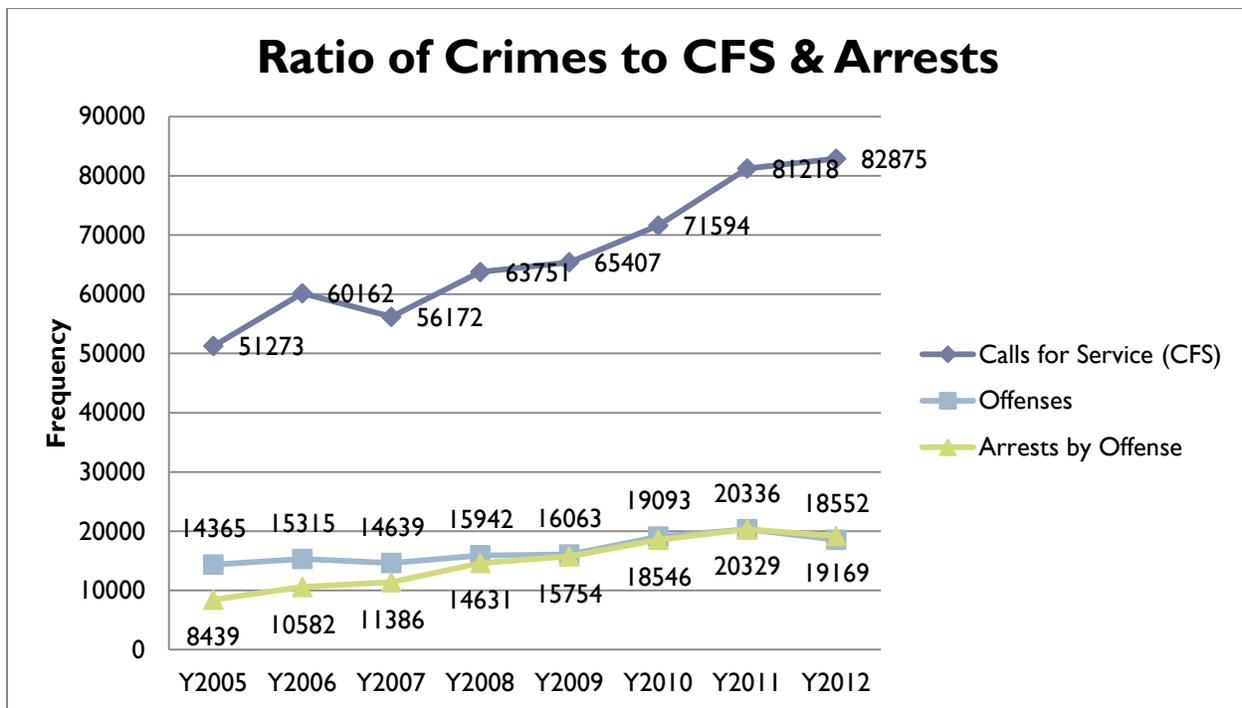

There have been several changes and updates throughout the department in 2012. This report presents this information by division and unit, along with each division and unit's progress for the year.

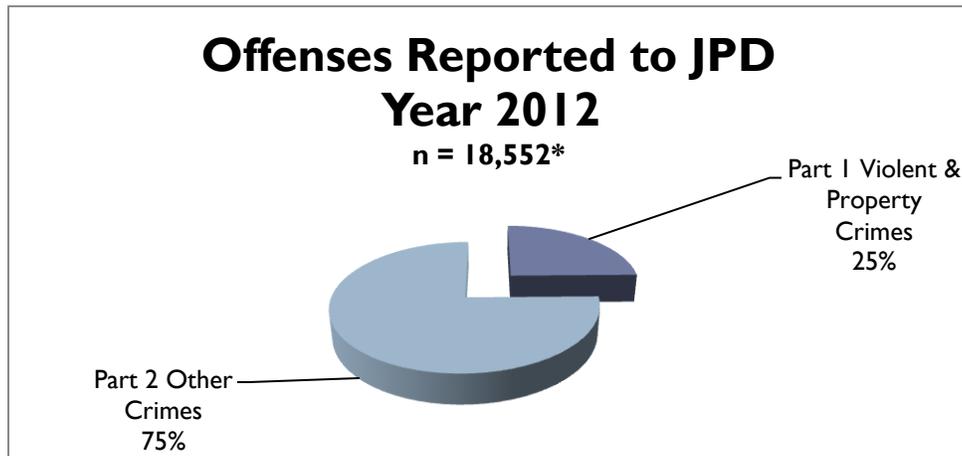

Every year, the department presents 17 awards to officers who stand out in service to the community. These awards are 12 officers of the month, 4 officers of the quarter, and 1 officer of the year. In addition, numerous officers are awarded commendations for an outstanding performance. These officers are acknowledged in the "Officer Awards" section of this report. The JPD is proud to call these officers their own and is truly grateful for their loyalty, commitment, and service to the community of Jonesboro.

JONESBORO CRIME 2012

The crime rate in the city of Jonesboro has remained relatively constant since 2005. Crime rates are calculated by crimes per 1000 population, based on the best-estimated population, to provide a more accurate reflection of crime. Although calls for service have increased by 62% (51,273 calls in 2005 to 82,875 calls in 2012) or by 38% per 1000 population, the department's efforts have essentially stabilized overall crime. During a period of significant population growth (approximately 17%), the number of offenses reported to the JPD since 2005 has increased by 11% per 1000 population. Since 2011, the number of offenses reported to the JPD dropped by 10%.

Due to different reporting techniques prior to 2010, the reports on warrants issued vary from the present day. In order to avoid anomalies in data comparison since 2005 and display an accurate reflection of the crime rate in 2011, all warrants data prior to 2010 is not included in this report. There was 11% decrease in warrants served in 2012 when compared to 2011. Furthermore, in 2012 the number of arrest equaled the number of reported offenses, resulting in a 57% increase for the ratio of arrests to crimes since 2005, again demonstrating that officers are acting proactively and effectively in the field.

*Note: NIBRIS reportable offenses only. Non NIBRIS reportable offenses $n = 5,133$

FBI PART I AND PART II CRIMES

There are 8 crimes that the FBI defines as Part I crimes. They are 1) Violent Crimes: Murder/Homicide, Rape, Aggravated Assault, and Robbery and 2) Property Crimes: Larceny/Theft, Motor Vehicle Theft, Burglary/Breaking and Entering, and Arson. Part II Crimes include Other Crimes, which include Crimes of Proactive Policing and All Other Crimes. The JPD has done an effective job over the last eight years reporting significant decreases in all but one category that is Willful Homicide. Although the Willful Homicide shows 300% increase, the 4 homicides reported in 2012 fall within the standard deviation in this crime category ($\bar{X} = 3$, $\sigma = 1$), therefore, should not be viewed as a significant crime trend¹.

¹ The symbol \bar{X} represents a statistical symbol for mean, or expected value, also known as average.

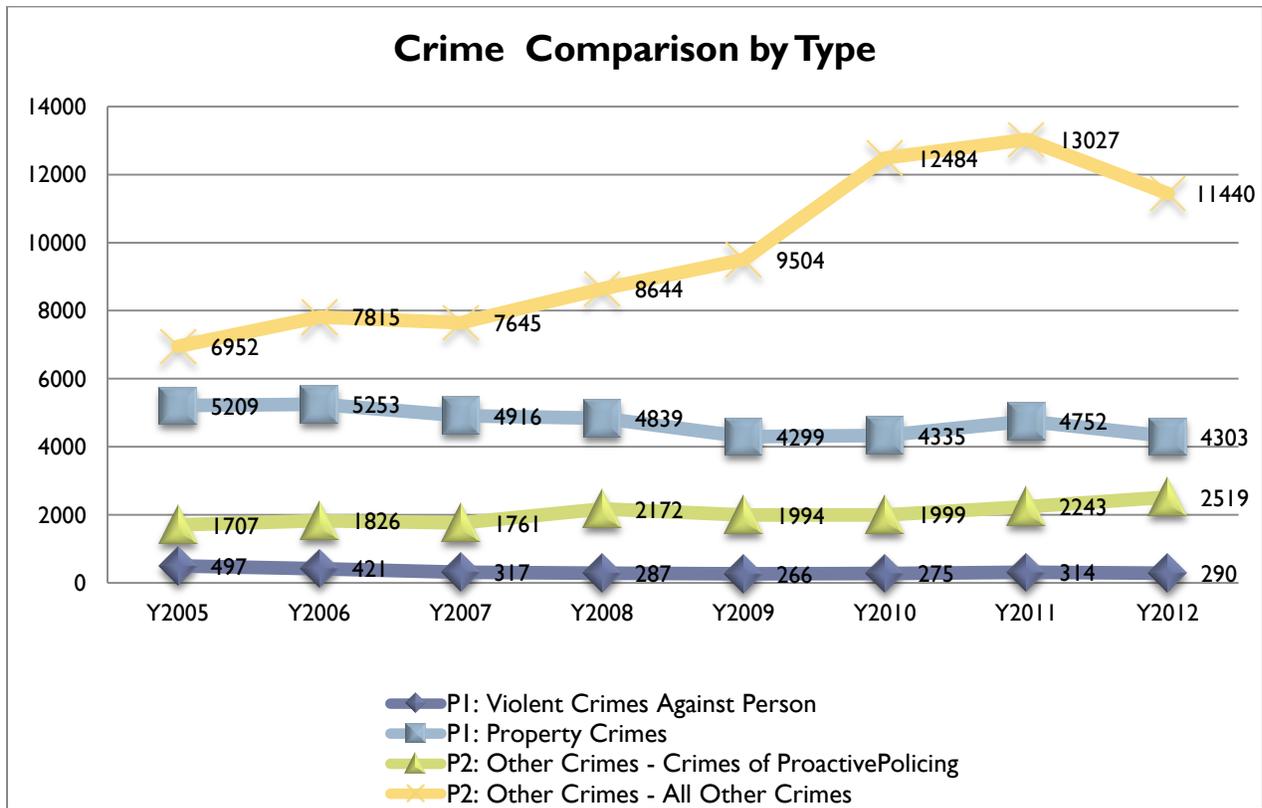

The symbol σ represents a statistical symbol for standard deviation, which shows how much variation or dispersion exists from the average.

The charts below show 2012 crime frequencies in relation to the range of standard distribution of the yearly average calculated in the range from 2005 through 2012. As for the FBI Part I Violent Crimes against Person, all four crime categories fit within the average range of the distribution for the given crime category. The FBI Part I Property Crimes dropped 1% last year below the average range within the given category of crime. This is attributed the below average range distribution of Larceny/Theft and Burglaries. Finally, the FBI Part II Other Crimes, overall, also fit into the average range within the given category, but individually, the Crimes of Proactive Policing increased 10% above the average range, while All Other Crimes are at the higher end of, but still, within the average range.

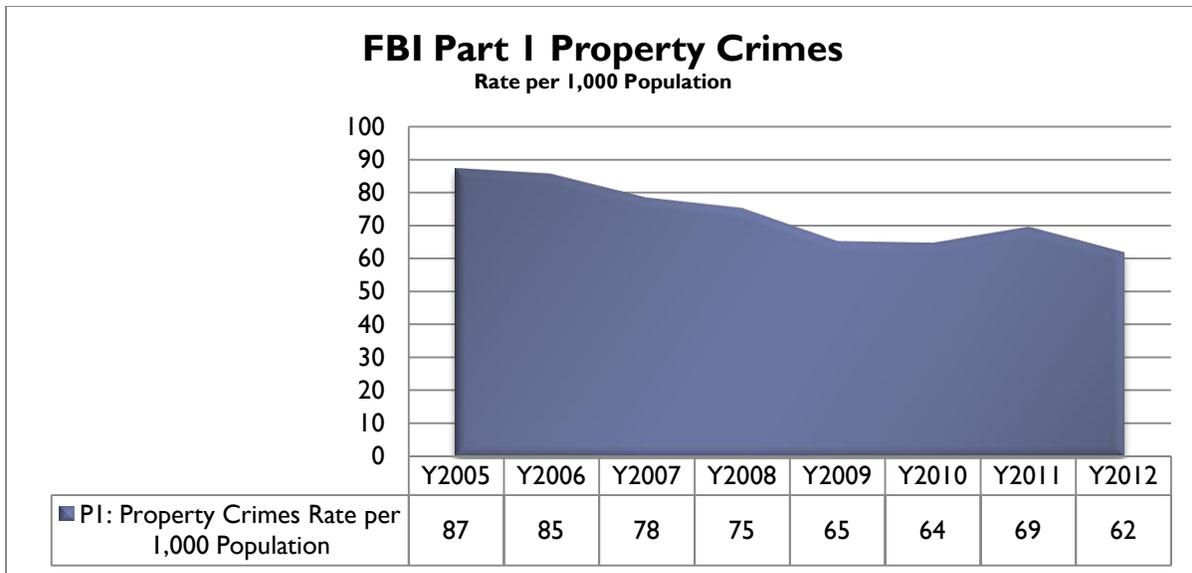

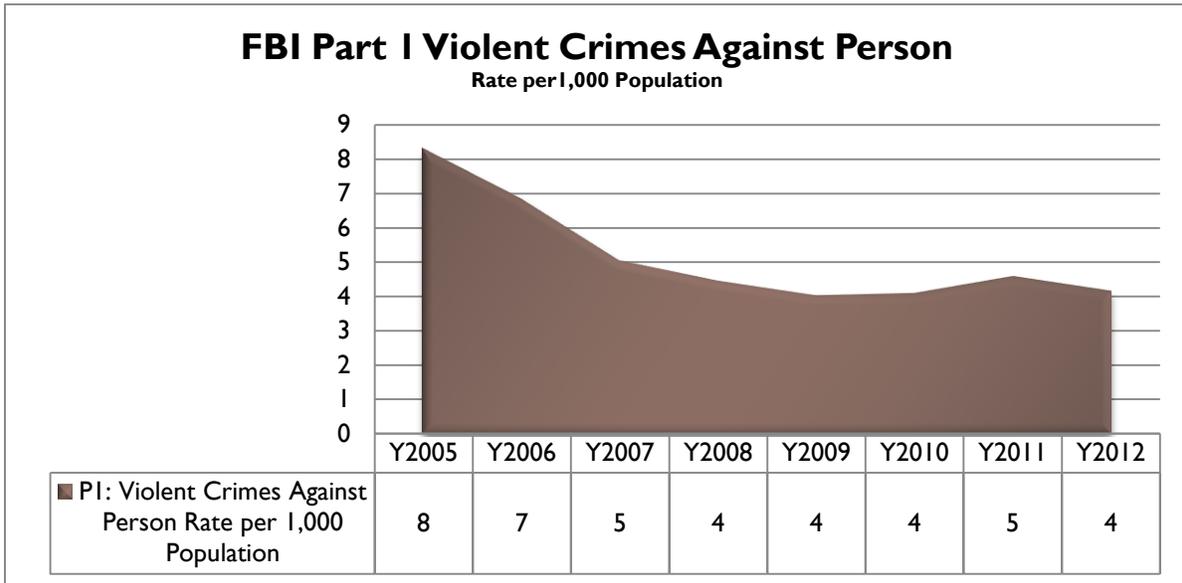

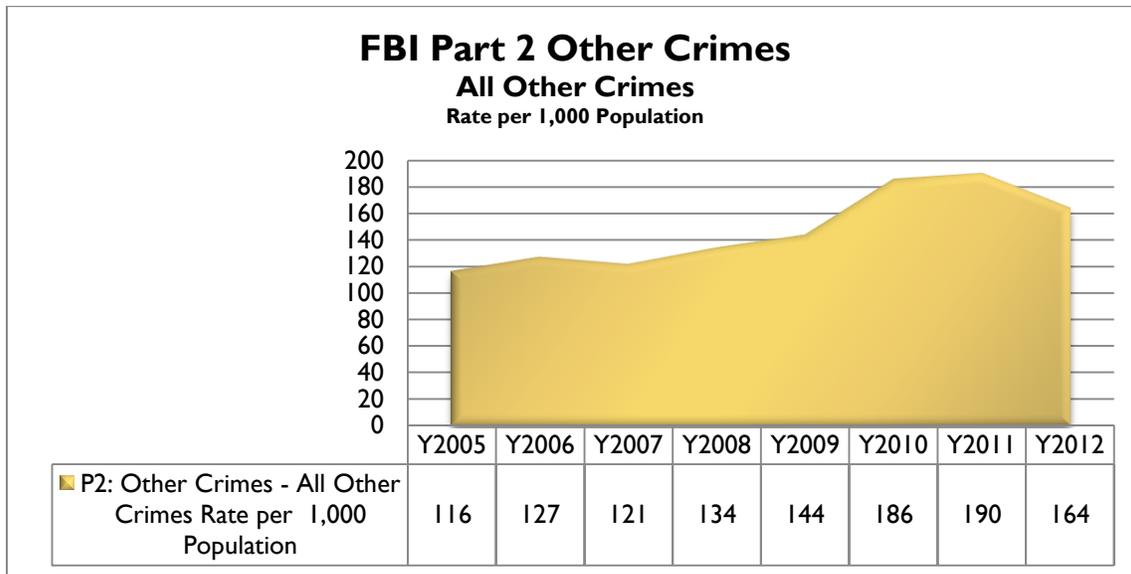

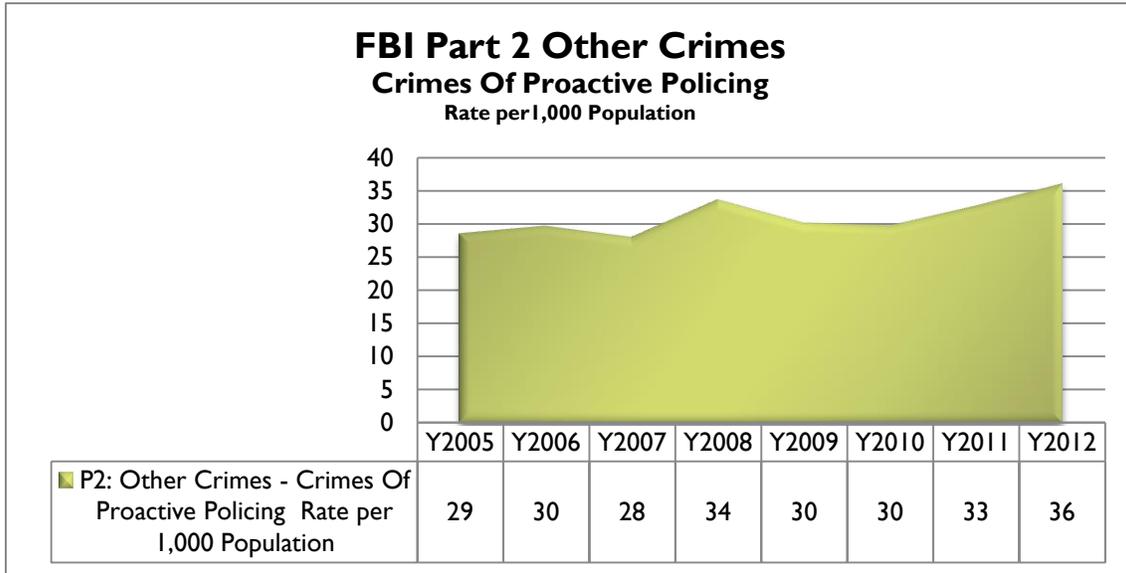

The JPD’s efforts are not only resulting in maintaining crimes against persons and property crimes, but the city of Jonesboro has actually seen a steady decrease in these crimes since 2005. More specifically, Violent Crimes against Person have decreased by 42% and Property Crimes have decreased by 17% since 2005. Crimes of Proactive Policing have increased since 2005 by 48%; however, this is actually a representation of officers acting proactively to decrease drug and gang crimes, along with other street-level offenses, such as prostitution.

Crime Rates per 1,000 Population

In order to provide yet another way of summarizing the distribution of crime in 2012, this section shows crime rates for every 1,000 people in our community.

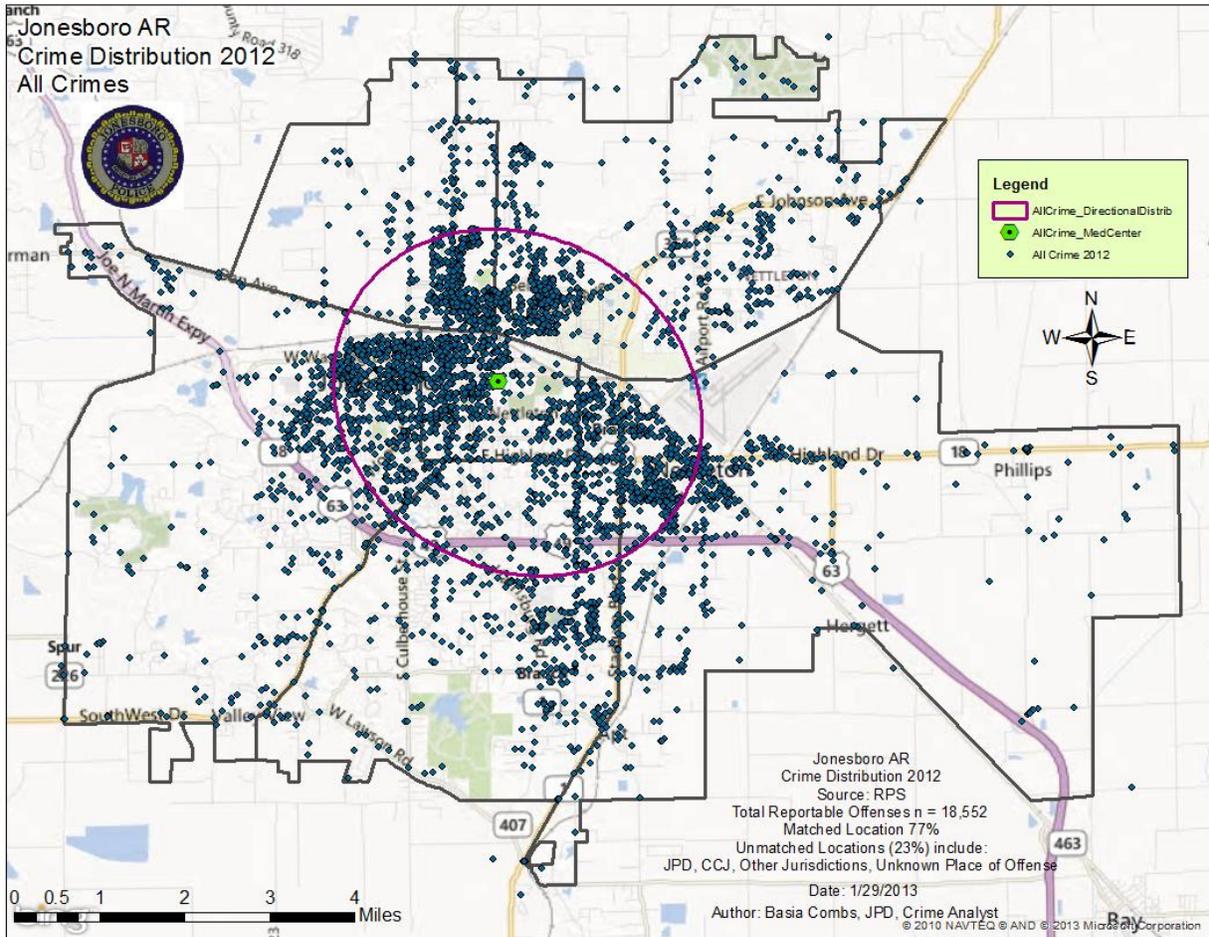

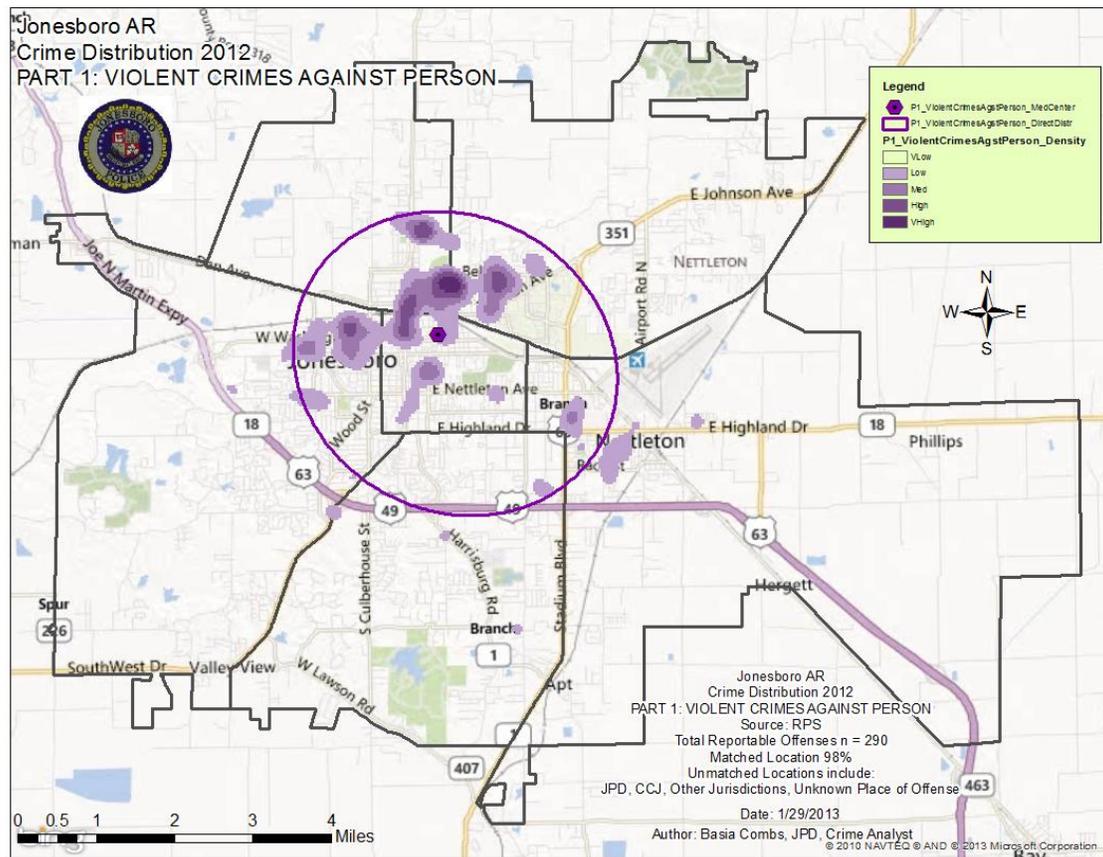

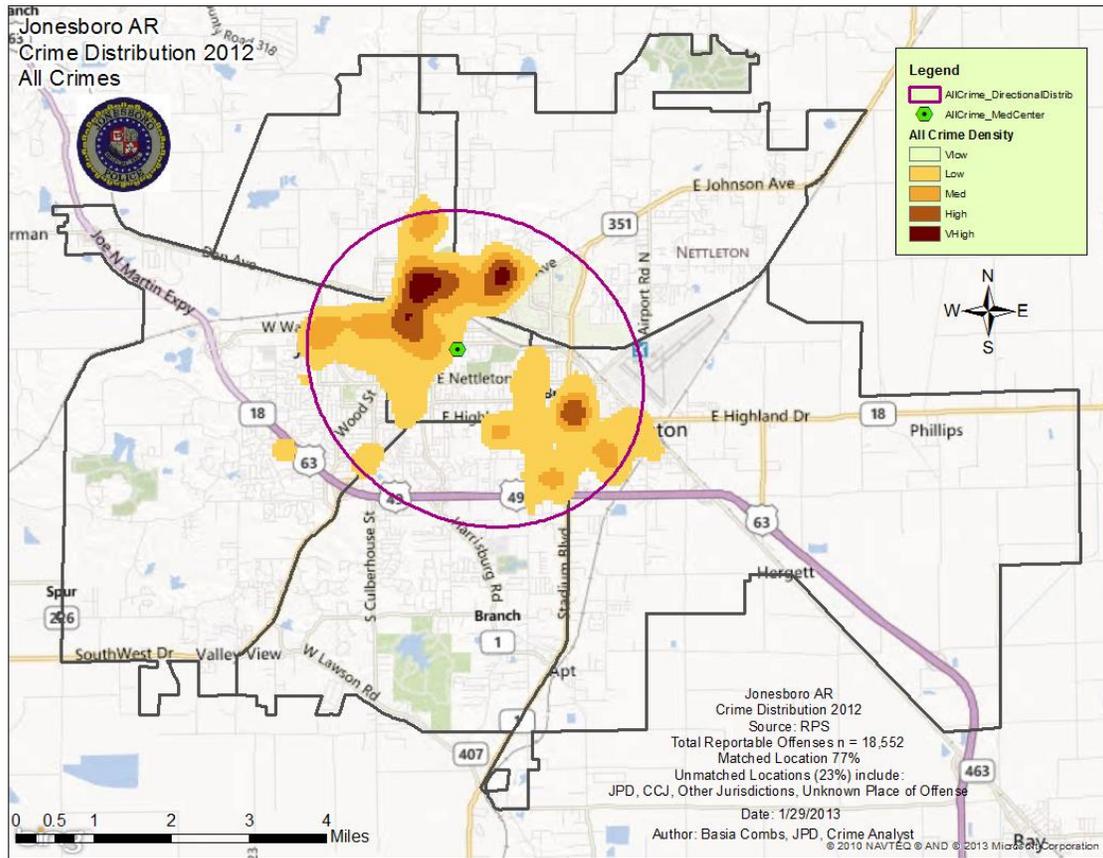

Since 2005, the crime rate per 1000 population has decreased for both the Violent Crimes against Person (-50%) and the Property Crimes (-29%). Similar rates apply to the change of the crime rate per 1000 population from year 2011 to 2012. In 2012, the Violent Crimes against Person rate per 1000 population has drop by 9%, while the rate for Property Crimes has dropped by 11%, comparing to 2011.

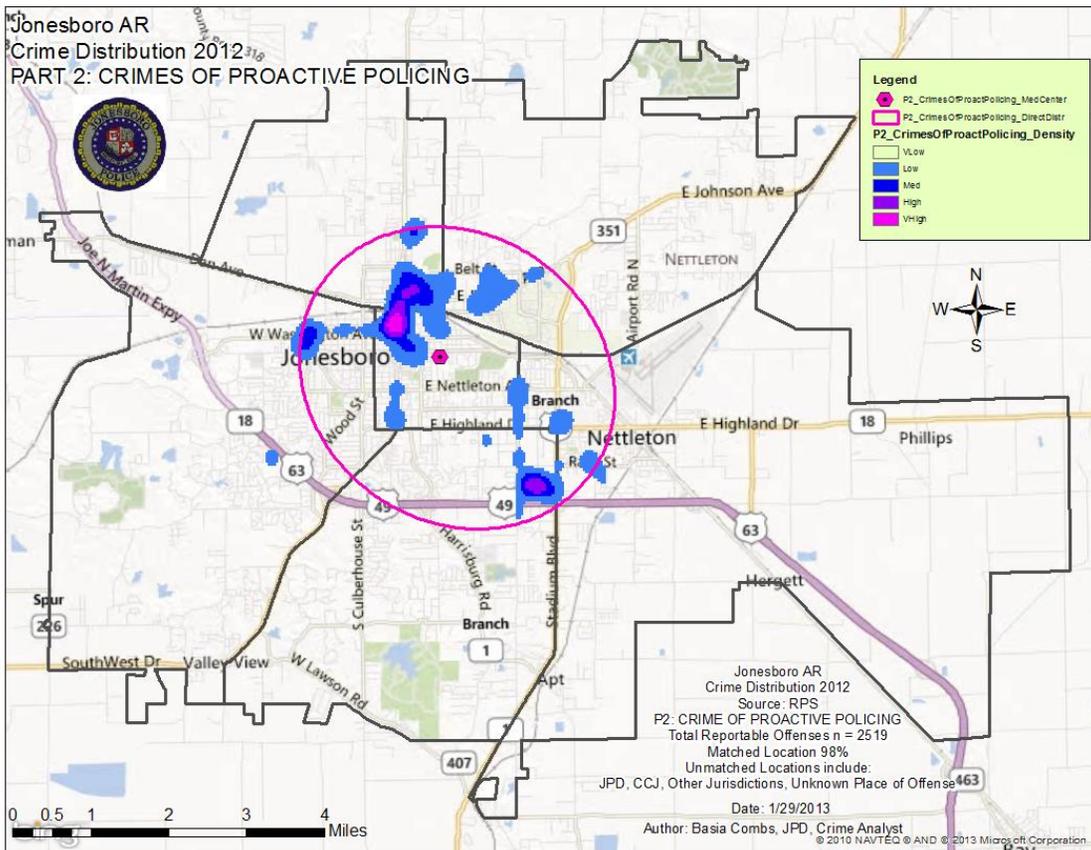

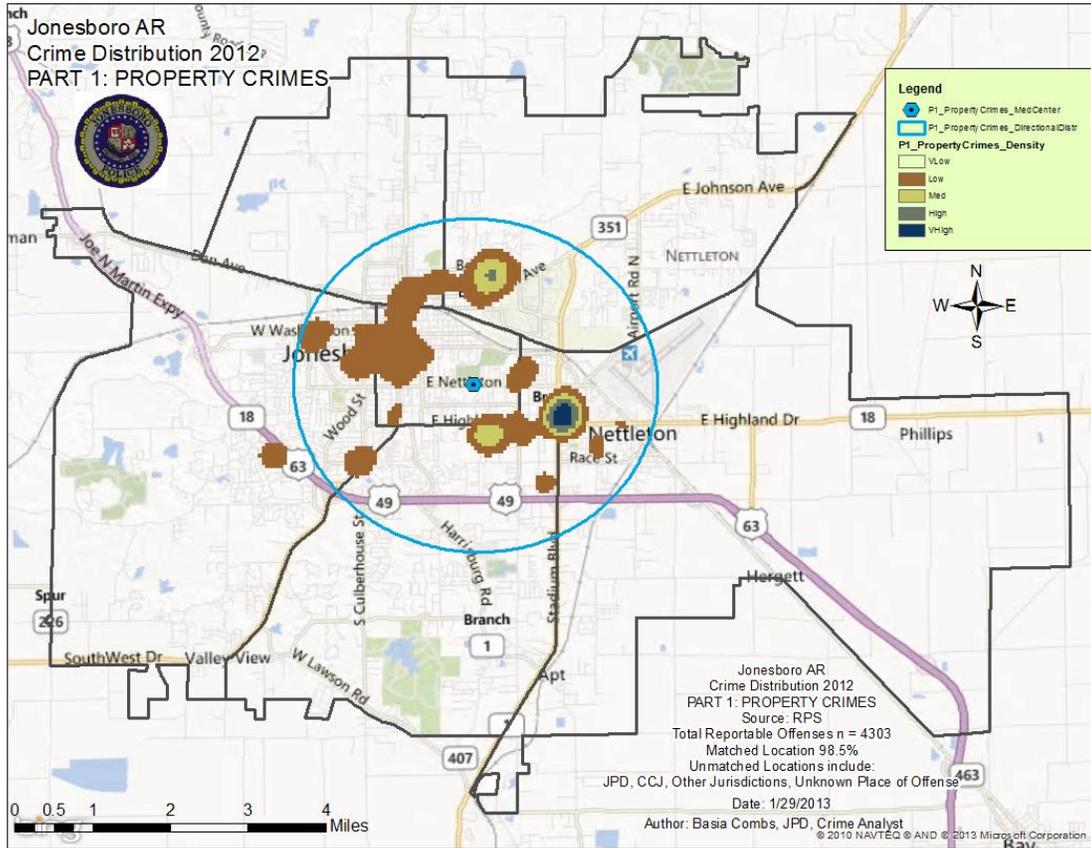

Since 2005, for both the Crimes of Proactive Policing and the All Other Crimes, the crime rate per 1000 population has increased by 26% and 41%, correspondingly. It is noticeable, however, that the crime rate per 1000 population has decreased for All Other Crimes by 14 % in 2012, when comparing to the previous year of 2011. In 2012, the crime rate per 1000 population continues to be on an increase for the Crimes of Proactive Policing, when comparing to the previous year, up 10%.

Distribution of Part I & Part II Crimes

Maps introduced in this section represent crime distribution by crime category and are divided into Part I and Part II Crimes (see page 5 for definition of PI and PII crimes). The map of Part 2 All Other Crimes category is not included here intentionally as the majority of these crimes show locations such as the Jonesboro Police Department, the Craighead County Jail or other jurisdiction and unknown locations; the remaining, known locations for this crime category are included in All Crime 2012 map.

Bias Policing Report 2012

The Jonesboro Police Department Policy 512 requires the Administrative Services to conduct an annual review of the Department's practices regarding Equal Enforcement of the Law in regard to recording citizen encounters, training, and administrative review, specifically. The purpose of this review is to determine whether the Department complies with the Policy 512.

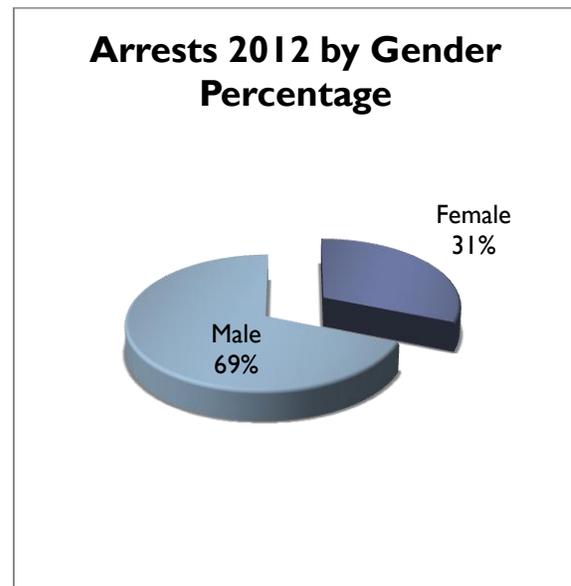

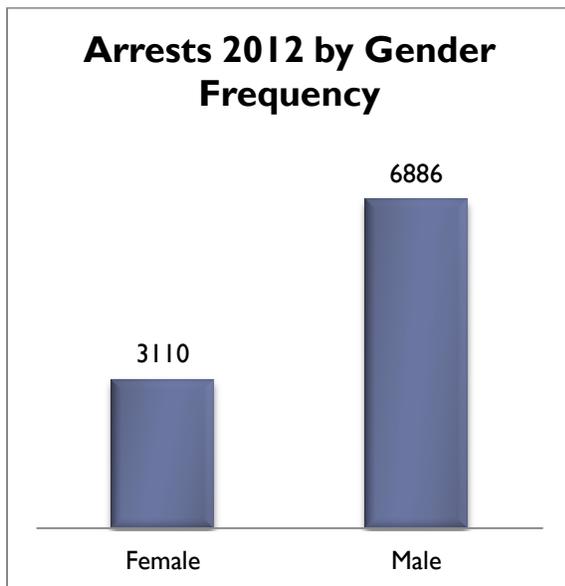

The JPD is striving for professionalism and excellence, which among many other aspects involves a commitment to unbiased law enforcement policies. It is explicitly stated in the agency's policy that bias based profiling is unethical and illegal, and that such approach to policing could create distrust in the community. The use of bias based profiling is prohibited in all aspects of police work, including traffic contacts, field contacts, investigative activities, searches, arrests, and asset seizure and forfeiture.

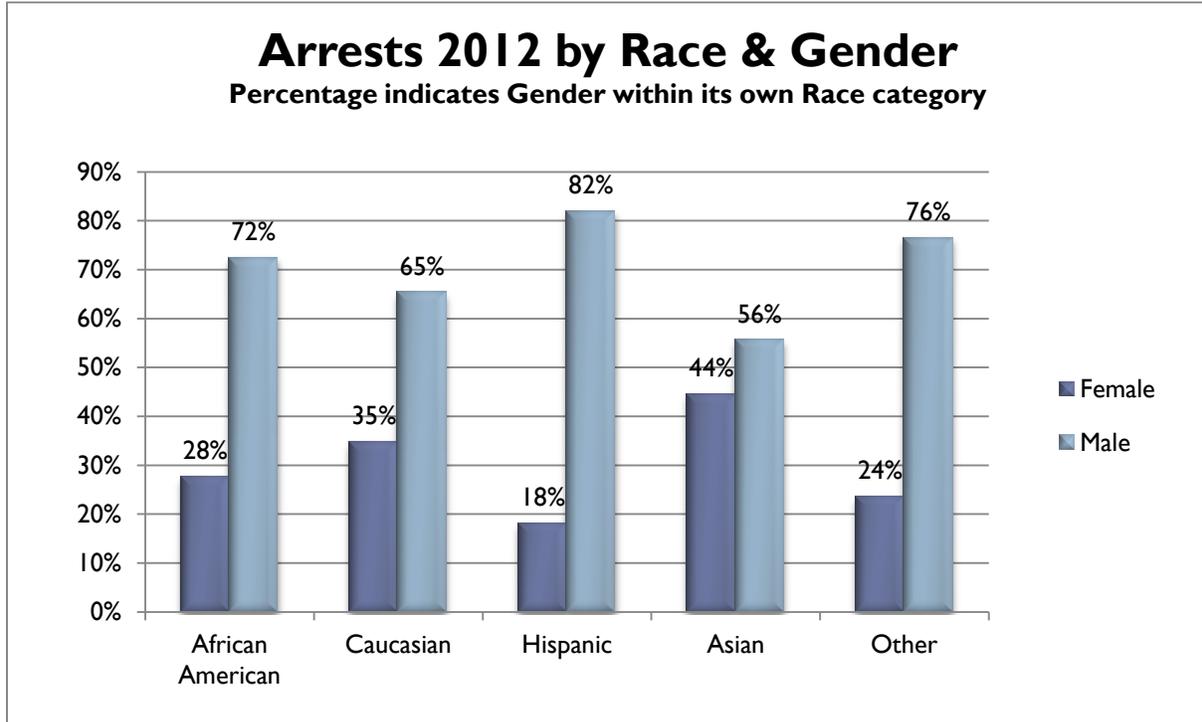

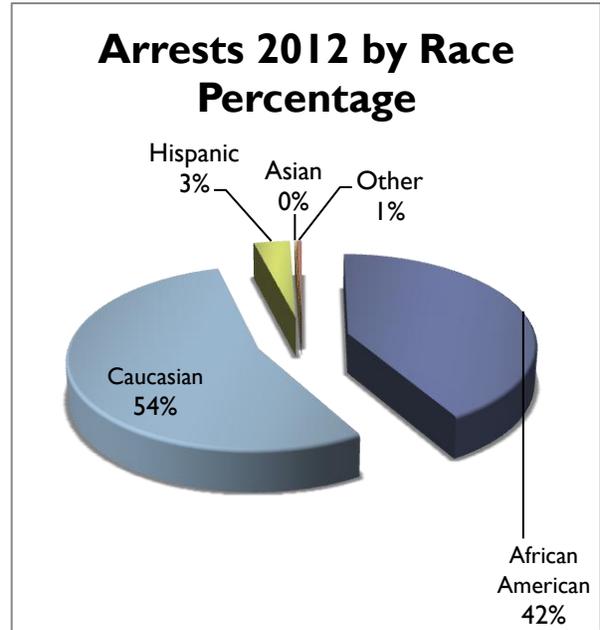

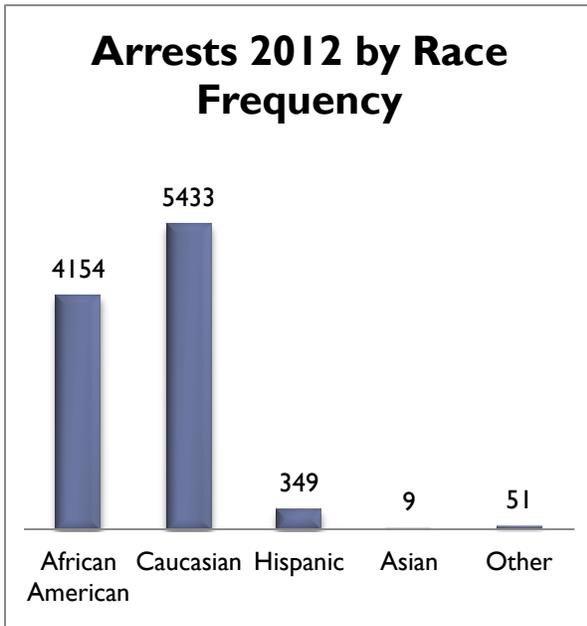

The policy, definitions, filed officer responsibilities, supervisor responsibilities, allegations of bias based profiling, review and reporting requirements, documentation and record keeping, retaliation, training, and communication regarding this policy all are addressed in the JPD's extensive written directive on bias based policing.

As stated in the Arkansas statute, employees of any municipal police agency are prohibited to engage in racial profiling. The statute requires such agencies to adopt a written policy, provide annual training, and report policy information to the Arkansas Division of Legislative Audit, with which the JPD complies strictly.

Arrestees

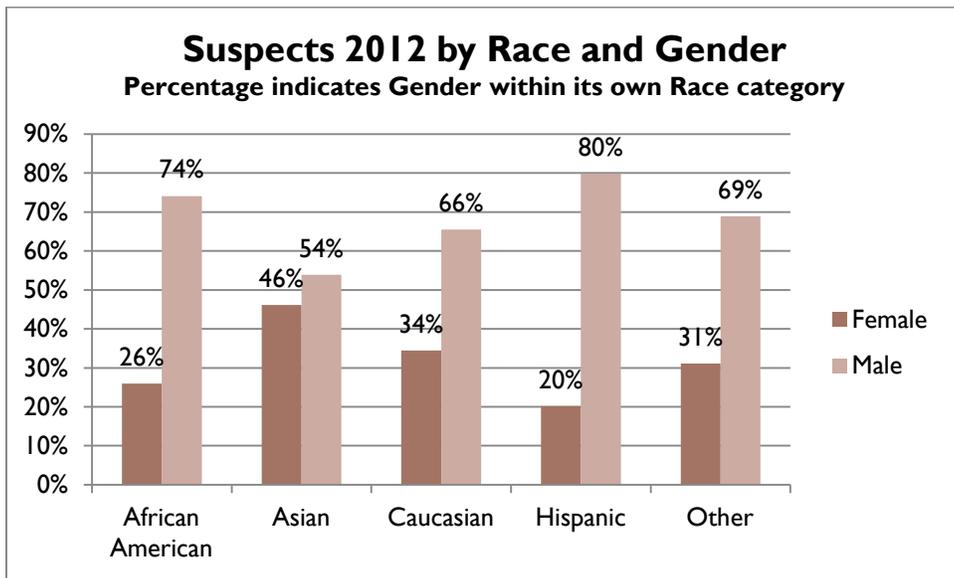

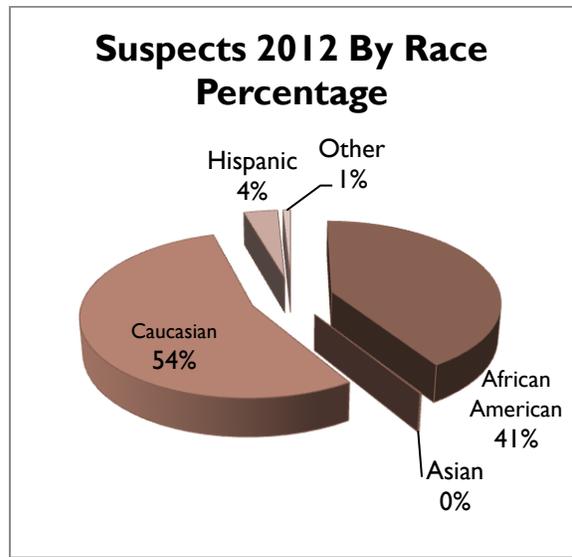

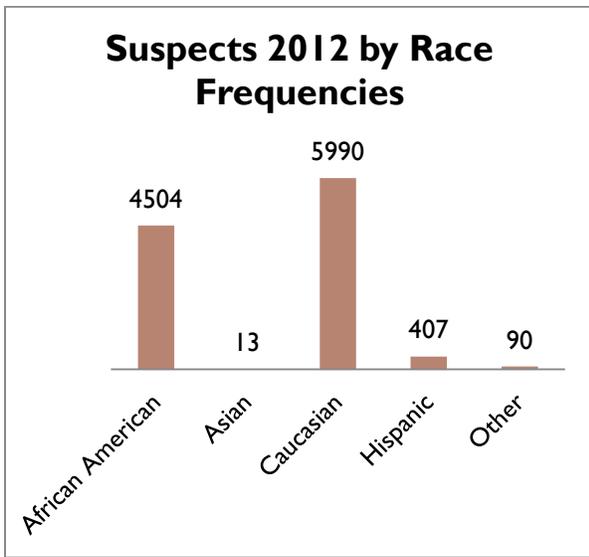

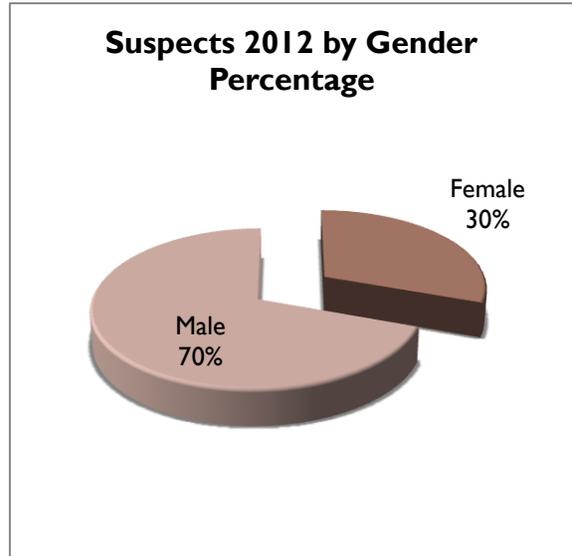

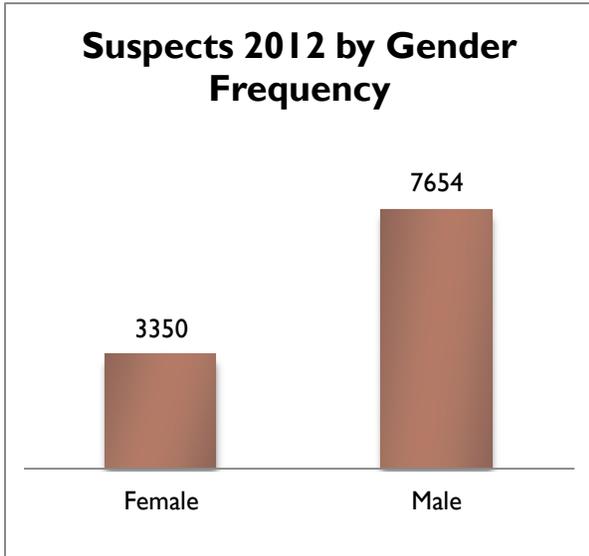

The section below reports all the Arrests conducted in 2012 by race and gender.

Suspects

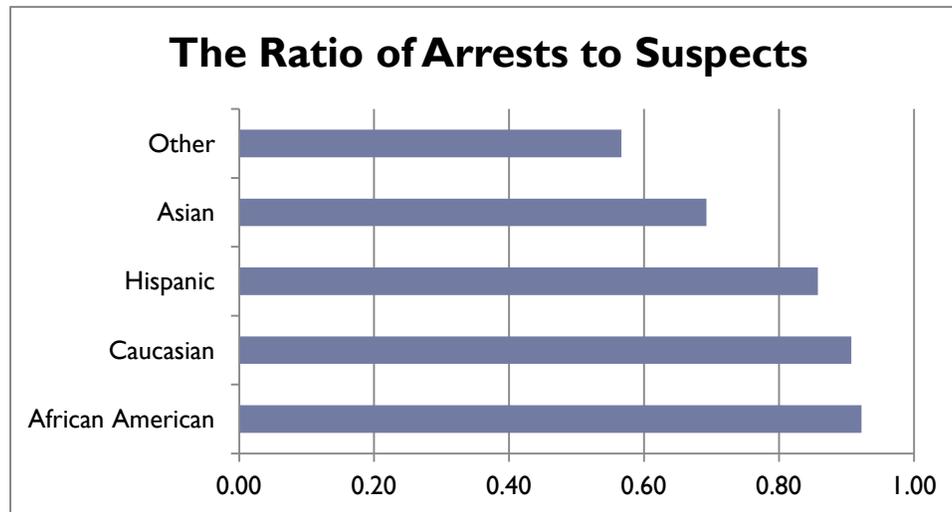

The section on the following page reports all the Suspects for 2012 by race and gender.

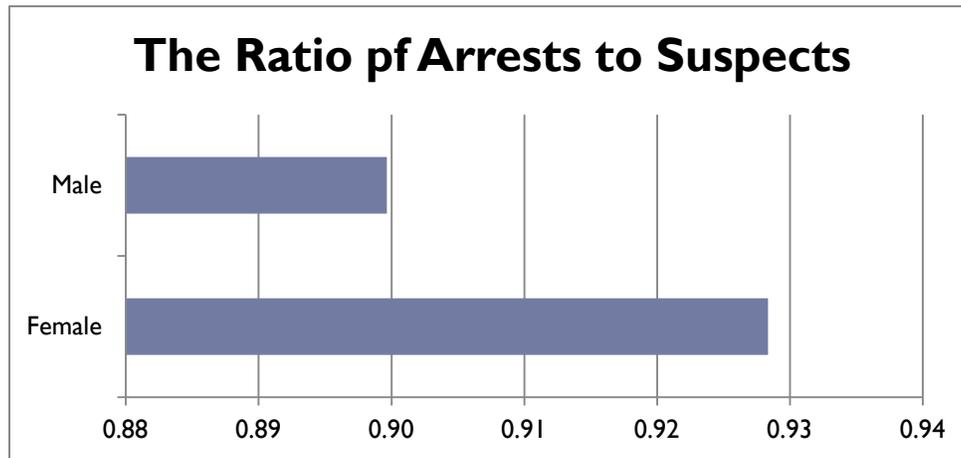

The results presented above indicate that the Jonesboro Police Department does comply with regulations that prohibit biased based profiling. Out of all the suspects reported, 54 % were Caucasians, 41% were African Americans, 4% were Hispanic, and 1% was of other race. The similar distribution is noticed when analyzing racial structure of persons arrested by the JPD. Out of all the persons arrested, 54% were Caucasians, 42% were African Americans, 3% were Hispanic, and 1% was of other race. When analyzing Gender, out of all the suspects 30% were female and 70% were male. The gender structure of those arrested is similar to that of the suspects, 31% female and 68% male.

The diagrams below show that on average, for every African American Male and Female suspect and for every Caucasian Male and female suspect, there was nearly one arrest made for African American Male and Female and for Caucasian Male and Female. For the Hispanics, Asians, and Other Ethnic categories represented by both Males and Females, for every suspect there were less than 0.9 arrests made by the JPD².

Arrests to Suspect Ratio
	Female	Male	Total
African American	0.98	0.90	0.92
Caucasian	0.91	0.90	0.91
Hispanic	0.77	0.88	0.86
Asian	0.67	0.71	0.69
Other	0.43	0.63	0.57
Total	0.93	0.90	0.91

² Ratio refers to proportional relation or rate; in this case ratio of arrests to suspects.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Administrative Services includes Recruiting, Office of Professional Standards, Crime Analysis, Accreditation, and Records. Captain B.J Smith is currently in command of Administrative Services.

In 2012, the Jonesboro Police Department was again awarded national accreditation through the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) and continues to strive for excellence by continuing to adhere to the standards set forth by the commission.

Public Relations & Recruiting

The public information officer, Sgt. Lyle Waterworth, worked with several news organizations throughout 2012 in an effort to better inform the community of important events, undertakings, accomplishments, and other news. In addition to KAIT 8 television and the Jonesboro Sun newspaper, the Jonesboro Police Department also works closely with radio stations such as the Jonesboro Radio Group, ASU Radio (KASU), East Arkansas Broadcasters, and others. The office routinely fielded requests from Little Rock and Memphis media outlets.

The City of Jonesboro the Human Recourse Department, along with the Jonesboro Police Department's Administration, including Chief of Police, Administrative Captain and Recruiting Officer are responsible for administering the hiring process. The City of Jonesboro is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The City of Jonesboro does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, marital or veteran status, political status, disability status, or other legally protected status.

According to the Recruiting Officer, Sgt. Lyle Waterworth, in 2012, the JPD has offered employment to a total of 19 qualifying applicants, out of which, 16 applicants accepted the offer.

Administrative Services Division

The Jonesboro Police Department believes the public has a right to expect efficient, fair and impartial law enforcement from officers. The citizens can file a complaint through the Office of Professional Standards that falls under the Administrative Services division. Each complaint is thoroughly investigated. At the conclusion of an investigation, one of the following dispositions must be given:

- Unfounded - The act complained of did not occur
- Exonerated - The act occurred, but was justified, lawful and proper
- Not Sustained - Insufficient evidence available to prove or disprove the allegation
- Sustained - The act did occur and constitutes misconduct

The chart below shows details of complaints filed in 2012, comparing it to the previous year.

Crime Analysis Unit

The Crime Analysis Unit consists of a Certified Crime and Intelligence Analyst and a Crime Analyst Assistant. The Unit is responsible for the analysis and dissemination of crime activity data and the collection and maintenance of crime intelligence information for the city of Jonesboro. Data exported from this division is used by field agents for more effective, efficient policing, administration for improved staffing decisions, and the Mayor's office for community decision making and enhanced public relations. The Crime Analysis Unit was implemented in the late 2009 and has continued to progress and improve.

Crime analyses occur at various levels, including tactical, operational, and strategic. Crime Analysts study crime reports, arrest reports, and police calls for service to identify emerging patterns, series, and trends as quickly as possible. They analyze these phenomena for all relevant factors, predict or forecast future occurrences, and issue bulletins, reports, and alerts to the department. Crime Analysts work with other police departments and units to develop effective strategies and tactics to address crime and disorder. Other duties of the Unit include preparing statistics, data queries, or maps on demand; preparing information for community or presentations for city officials; answering questions from the public and the press; and providing data and information support for the Jonesboro Police Department, City of Jonesboro, and other entities.

Sociodemographics, along with spatial and temporal information, are all aspects that the Unit looks at to understand what's going on in our jurisdiction as crime analysis employs data mining, crime mapping, statistics, research methods, desktop publishing, charting, presentations, critical thinking, and a solid understanding of criminal behavior. In this sense, the Crime Analysis Unit serves as a combination of information systems specialists, statisticians, researchers, and criminologists for the JPD and the City of Jonesboro.

- In 2012, the Crime Analysis Unit continued its assistance in investigations conducted by CID, DTF, Prowl Unit, Traffic, and Uniform Patrol Division, providing them with reports, crime series analysis, maps, and other tools necessary for solving cases and address safety issues.
- In May, the Unit has completed the study of Jonesboro Crime Distribution: Spatial Distribution and Contributing Factors. Results of the study showed that the Section 8 housing has the greatest impact on crime, followed by vacant units, population density, Jonesboro Urban Renewal Housing Authority, and probationers and parolees. The Unit prepared a list of recommendations and presented it to the City Council on two occasions in June and July.
- The year 2012 also marks the formation of the Hot Spots Reduction and Prevention Program, created by the Unit and chaired by the Crime Analyst. The program is based on a close collaboration of the major community stakeholders and it focuses on crime reduction in distressed neighborhoods in our community, where hot spots of crime persist.
- Last year, the Crime Analyst was also appointed to the Mayor's Housing Study Advisory Committee. As the Chair of this committee, the Analyst is coordinating the efforts of the Jonesboro community's major stakeholders, seeking to encourage the improvement of Quality of Life throughout the neighborhoods of the City of Jonesboro, focusing on public safety, promoting housing that stands the test of time, encouraging the residents and business owners to revive the sense of community and trust, while taking pride in their property and neighborhoods. The Committee's mission is to make recommendations to the decision and policy makers about housing issues and trends with particular emphasis on distressed neighborhood in the City of Jonesboro.
- The Crime Analyst sits on the Craighead County DWI Court, for which she conducts analysis, evaluation, and writes grant proposals/applications with a purpose of soliciting funds necessary to the successful operation of the program. In 2012, the CC DWI Court was awarded a little over $ 7,000.00 from the Arkansas State Police, to be spent toward training and education.

- Last year, the Crime Analyst has also begun a close collaboration with the North Jonesboro Neighborhood Initiative and with a newly formed the JPD's Quality of Life Unit. She also became a board member of the City of Jonesboro Public Arts Program 2013.
- In September, the Crime Analyst attended and completed combined Call Analysis training School and Pen-Link Advanced Class for Pen-Link v.8.2, provided by Pen-Link Ltd. The call analysis is a crucial analytical, investigative method used in solving organized crime.
- The Unit has also responded to the numerous data requests, both internal and external.

The Crime Analysis Unit will continue to strive for excellence in 2013 through fostering a data analysis and dissemination process by applying advanced Information and Technology to achieve results-driven crime prevention methods to all the JPD units. This will be achieved through even more improving current crime analysis unit processes and procedures and through a further expansion of current crime analysis resources.

The Crime Analysis Unit conducted all data analysis related to the "Jonesboro Crime 2012" section and "Bias Policing Report" section found previously in this report.

Records

The Records Division is responsible for providing administrative and clerical support to the department. Major responsibilities include entering the accident and incident reports and tickets into the records database management system, assisting the general public for report requests, performing criminal backgrounds, serving as a switchboard at times, performing validations, and setting up and managing the payment plans out of court.

UNIFORM PATROL DIVISION

The uniformed officers of the Patrol Division are the providers of around the clock police services. Along with the primary responsibility to answer citizen generated calls for service and assistance, these officers provide the visible police presence that helps deter crime. Jonesboro is divided into six patrol districts. Officers from the UPD are assigned to a district and work the same district every shift. In addition, when a Traffic Officer is not available, a UPD Officer will respond to traffic accidents and assist in directing traffic when necessary. Captain Scott Roper is in command of the Patrol Division.

Special Assignment Details – In order to better focus resources, officers were frequently assigned to target specific crime or areas and provide a proactive approach to enforcement. Utilizing various information, including current crime maps from the crime analysis office that helped identify specific problem areas, sixty-two separate assignments were worked in the past year to target specific types of crime or areas that had particularly high incidents of crime. These deployments ranged from assignment of a few officers to the downtown or hospital zone areas to slow down speeders, to the regular deployment of a contingent of officers to a difficult area on bikes over an extended period of time until an affect was realized. Many assignments are also regularly occurring events where the department partners with other entities, such as UPCares events with Union Pacific railroad, working with all the local districts for extra traffic control in school zones at the beginning of the new school year, and with a number of local non-profit organizations to provide traffic control and safety for a number of bike races and various length running events.

The biggest such operation this year, ‘Operation Clean Sweep’, included officers from other units joining with patrol officers in June to address those areas of our city where residents expressed concern about criminal activity issues that were severely affecting their ability to maintain a positive residential environment, which was affecting their quality of life.

Bike Patrol – The department was fortunate enough to acquire two more bicycles to add to the Bike Patrol unit this year, which is staffed with Patrol shift officers as manpower permits. In addition to that acquisition, the department also obtained other new equipment, including new helmets, in preparation for additional training this year, which included IPMBA (International Police Mountain Biking Association) certification for four officers.

Line Inspections – Supervisors from all three shifts conducted two different thorough inspections last year to ensure that equipment is in place and being properly maintained. Such review is extremely beneficial to obtaining the most use from issued equipment by ensuring proper maintenance.

Training – All three shifts of the patrol division officers completed over 3,000 hours of in-house, firearms and outside training in the past year (not counting SWAT team training).

Community Involvement – In addition to regular patrol and enforcement duties, Uniformed Patrol Division officers frequently assist with community involvement activities and completed a number of special event and school presentations, security details for parades and other events and public meetings held throughout the year. Along with also participating in a number of car seat installation clinics, officers also assist citizens every week who come to the PD for information on and assistance with car seat installation.

The patrol division officers continued to be at the forefront of department response to criminal activity and many officers were awarded for particularly outstanding case work, notable arrests, and acts of bravery and above average acts of community service.

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DIVISION

The Criminal Investigation Division is responsible for conducting follow-up investigations into criminal acts reported to the Jonesboro Police Department. The primary goal is to collect and present evidence that conclusively leads to a successful arrest. Additionally, CID is charged with clearing additional crimes, recovering stolen property, preventing additional crimes, and gathering intelligence information.

Captain Lynn Waterworth is currently in command of the CID. The following are the accomplishments for 2012:

- Sgt. Todd Nelson was promoted to Lieutenant and put in charge of the newly formed Quality of Life Unit.
- Sgt. Brad Rossman was transferred from Uniform Patrol to CID to replace the position vacated by Lt. Nelson.

- Ptl. Brandon King was transferred from Uniform Patrol in July to CID as an investigator.
- A second interview room was added with recording equipment.
- The Live Scan digital fingerprint system was updated and we now have the ability to submit fingerprints electronically to ASP.
- A complete key holder change inventory was completed for the evidence/Property rooms in November.

Internet Crimes Unit

Lieutenant Nathan Oliver is currently overseeing the operations of the Internet Crimes Unit

- 1) The Internet Crimes against Children Lab conducted 148 forensic examinations of computers, cell phones, and other digital media.
- 2) The High Tech Crimes Unit (ICAC) now has an officer that is cross trained to forensically examine both cell phones and computers.
- 3) The High Tech Crimes Unit has completed the Recovery Act Grant period. All funds have been spent and the items that were purchased are being utilized for their intended purpose. The goals of the grant have been met. The Lab is successfully servicing the northeast region of Arkansas.

Operations and General Investigations

Lieutenant Scott Baxter is currently overseeing the Operations and General Investigations Unit.

- CID has a Certified Property and Evidence Specialist. This is a unique specialty that only a couple of departments in the state have.
- CID added approximately $9,000.00 in specialty equipment that will enhance our ability to locate, document, and solve crimes. (Forensic Work Station; Portable Alternate Light Source; Laser Trajectory Kit; Advanced Crime Scene Camera Kit; Updated Fingerprinting Software, Computer and Printer.)
- CID took in approx 5,374 items in our property/evidence room.
- CID disposed of drugs from 135 drug cases in January.
- CID disposed of 144 weapons, weapon parts, swords, & Knives in October.
- CID disposed of drugs from an additional 177 drug cases in October.

SPECIAL SERVICES DIVISION

The Special Services Division includes Warrants, Drug Task Force, Prowl, Traffic, S.W.A.T Unit, Quality of Life Unit, Reserve Unit, D.A.R.E, Parking, and Training Division. Captain Kelly Baggett is currently in command of the Special Services Division. The 2012 activities for this division are broken down by unit.

The Special Services Division of the Jonesboro Police Department will provide the citizens of Jonesboro and those who visit our city with the most professional police services possible. The division will work with and support other divisions within the police department to help to ensure the department functions at or above expectations.

Warrants Division

The Warrant Division is responsible for serving warrants, criminal summonses, and subpoenas that are issued by the District Court. On city court days, the Warrant Division provides a bailiff for court and a transport officer. In addition, this division is responsible for transporting wanted persons arrested in other jurisdictions back to Jonesboro. The Selected Traffic Enforcement Program (STEP) operates within this division and is a grant-funded operation in which officers can get paid overtime to enforce the safety belt law.

In 2013, the Prowl Unit will build upon its successes of the last year by trying to increase the drug arrests and seizures from 2012 and responding to more citizen complaints of criminal activity by increasing directed patrols.

Traffic Unit

Comprised of three motorcycle units and three Dodge Charger vehicles, the Traffic Enforcement Unit responds to traffic accidents and provides increased enforcement in particularly challenging areas. This unit also provides extra coverage for specific congestion problems and special events in the community. Lastly, they work details targeting specific issues, such as DWI enforcement and traffic safety checkpoints.

During the year of 2012 the Traffic Unit expanded with the addition of a fourth motorcycle officer, CPL Jon Wood. The Unit consist of seven officers who investigated 1,647 Traffic Crashes and 435 Private Property Crashes. The Unit issued 1,450 Traffic Citations and made 33 D.W.I. Arrests. The Unit assisted with the Martin Luther King's Day Parade, Veteran's Day Parade and Christmas Parade. The Unit conducted three Sobriety Checkpoints during National and State D.W.I. Mobilizations. It also assisted with traffic during a Candle Light Vigil for an Out of State School Shooting Tragedy. It conducted escorts for numerous sport teams of many different colleges and high schools. Two of the Officers became Standardized Field Sobriety Testing Instructors making a total of three in the Unit.

In 2013, the Traffic Unit would like to see the Unit add a Drug Recognition Expert giving it a total of two and continue with its community involvement and special assignments. The Traffic Unit would like to see an increase the number of Sobriety Checkpoints in the upcoming year. Furthermore, the Unit would like to see its citations increase over the upcoming year. Finally, the Unit would also like to see special assignments conducted in the areas of the highest concentration of crash areas in an effort to reduce the number of crashes in these areas.

Quality of Life Unit

The Quality of Life Unit was created in October 2012. The purpose of the QOL Unit is to reduce crime in specific areas of Jonesboro by exploring and utilizing all the available resources of the City of Jonesboro in coordination with efforts by citizens and private groups in Jonesboro. There are two basic principles that guide our actions. The first is that physical disorder is both a byproduct as well as an attractant to criminal activity, and that if the physical order of a neighborhood is improved, there should be a measurable reduction in criminal activity in that area. Second, the consequences of criminal activity can go beyond incarceration, and include loss of public benefits, eviction, loss of personal property, litigation, etc. The pending application of these alternative consequences can be as much or more of a deterrent to criminal activity than the threat of incarceration. Lieutenant Todd Nelson is overseeing all operations of the unit.

2012 Accomplishments

- Established Position – The City Council passed the resolution to create a Quality of Life Lieutenant position
- Secured office space – The Parker Park Community Center was converted to an office for The QOL Lt., Code Enforcement and an additional officer
- Established a good working relationship with the Jonesboro Urban Renewal and Housing Authority.
- Established relationships with the Jonesboro Landlord's Association, and several Neighborhood associations
- Created a Public Housing Investigator position – The officer assigned investigates claims of misconduct by person receiving housing assistance and will perform background checks on their applicants.
- Code Enforcement participated in Fairview Neighborhood clean-up

- Hired an Americorps worker to assist needy people with clean-up to be compliant with city ordinances.
- Secured funding and purchased computer software to make Code Enforcement more efficient at documenting and tracking violations and assist administration in analyzing data on violations.

2013 Goals

- Fully implement Code Enforcement Software
- Cross train all Code Enforcement officer to administrate Condemnations
- Perform background checks on JURHA applicants
- Establish a network of participating landlords to assist in evictions for criminal activity.
- File Nuisance Abatement Lawsuits as needed.
- Implement a training program for Patrol Officer on Code Enforcement and Nuisance Abatement issues

Animal Control

The Animal Control Division is responsible for educating the public on safe and humane issues regarding animal treatment, enforcing all animal laws and ordinances, assisting the public in resolving animal issues, and protecting the safety and welfare of the citizens and animals in this community. The Jonesboro Police Department Animal Control Division is the first-line resource for information concerning the most effective methods to help Jonesboro become Arkansas's model city for the humane treatment of animals, elevating the perception and professionalism of the Animal Control Officer and continuing to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of Animal Control. Sergeant Larry Rogers is in command of the Animal Control Division.

The top accomplishments of Animal Control in 2012 include:

CONCLUSION

As 2012 came to a close, JPD reflected on yet another great year in service to the community. Crime is stable, even with an increase in both population and calls for service. However, this is just an indication of the commitment to the community, excellence in organization, communication, and leadership, and the loyalty of the men and women who are employed with the department.
